Man Charged in Armed Robberies of Residential Gardeners

A 34-year-old man accused of robbing numerous gardeners at gunpoint was charged Thursday, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Deputy District Attorney Dmitry Brodsky said Aaron Deon Seymour (dob 4/26/82) has been charged with four felony counts of second-degree robbery with a gun-use allegation in case BA447184. The complaint further alleges a 2006 conviction of voluntary manslaughter in case YA061785.

The defendant was expected to be arraigned yesterday, but the hearing was continued to June 9 in Department 30 of the Foltz Criminal Justice Center.

Seymour allegedly pulled a gun on four residential gardeners and robbed the men collectively of more than $800 in cash earnings, the prosecutor said. The alleged offenses occurred in South Los Angeles and Inglewood last month.

If convicted as charged, Seymour faces a maximum sentence of 41 years in state prison.

The case remains under investigation by the Los Angeles Police Department.
